(2) On receiving any report of a fault or defect in the work carried out by a registered electrical wireman, or by the holder of a provisional license, the Board may,—

(a) If the person in respect of whose work the report is made is a registered electrical wireman, either cause his name to be removed from the register, or suspend him for such period as it thinks fit (and during such period of suspension it shall not be lawful for him to do the work of a registered electrical wireman), or cause his certificate of registration to be endorsed with a record of such fault or defect as aforesaid, and a note of such endorsement to be inserted in the register against his name; or

On receiving any such report from the Chief Electrical Engineer the Board may take action thereon in accordance with this section as if the report were made by an electrical-supply authority.

(6) The Registrar, or any electrical engineer or registered electrical wireman authorized by the Registrar in writing in that behalf, may enter any premises at any reasonable time or times for the purpose of making for the information of the Board an inspection and report concerning any electrical-wiring work whether or not a complaint has been made under the foregoing provisions of this section in respect of such work.

(7) Any registered Inspector of Electrical Wiring appointed by an electrical-supply authority may, at any reasonable time or times, upon producing his certificate of registration, enter upon any premises and inspect and test for the purposes of this section any electrical wiring or electrical apparatus therein if such wiring or apparatus is, or is intended to be, connected directly or indirectly with the electric lines of that electrical-supply authority, or has been disconnected from such electric lines within a reasonable period prior to such inspection.

(8) If any person, without reasonable cause, refuses to permit such Inspector to make any inspection as aforesaid, the electrical-supply authority may disconnect the installation from the source of supply.
